The Ranches at Destiny Hills, Austin, TX

Located in The Ranches at Destiny Hills, lies a Modern Farmhouse on a 12.5 acre estate lot. Designed by Kai Geshcke and built by Todd Arbogast in 2023. The focus of this estate was to create a home to entertain guests, focus on the family, and embrace nature close to all of the amenities that West Austin has to offer. With a thoughtful, open flow design, this house was strategically located on the 12.5 acres directly over looking a towering Live Oak Grove. Providing plenty of space to enjoy the beauty and tranquility of the Texas Hill Country, while maximizing more acreage to recreate on and enjoy wildlife. The house is a short drive to the Hill Country galleria, including Whole Foods, HEB, numerous dining choices, and high end shopping. Located toward the front of the property is a water well with metal storage tank drilled to the lower trinity, along with a rain catchment system feeding a 50,000 gallon metal storage tank. Electrical and Internet cable run underground to the house and the owners have installed an Enphase solar system, cutting down on utility costs, along with providing extra support power in case of an outage. A separate detached garage by the house is used for equipment storage, a detached office, and workshop with capabilities for RV Storage, equipment, and or multiple cars. Included is a FEMA Spec'd safe room located in one of the attached garages that provides the opportunity for additional comfort in the event of harsh weather. The house has been spray foamed, is sprinkled, powered with a control four AV system, includes a nine speaker with sub Dolby Atmos system outfitted media room, and includes remote shades through out many living areas. High end appliances adorn the kitchen, outdoor living area, and the land is wildlife exempt. Come see this Functional, Practical, low tax, and Elegant Austin, Hill Country home today!
